Homework	* Pupils are reminded, they should by now have collected examples of the exam product (either 'literally' or off the internet). You should do their own 'dis-assembly' exercise (see class work from week 1)
Due in :	next week

Main Lesson Activities
Collect the A4 exam folder and check that all pupils have the material distributed so far
It would be useful to have an 'order form' for copies of pages from the revision book that have been missed, any parts of the 2002 exam paper and any instructions concerning the collection of contextual materials for the exam.
The topic this week is 'printing techniques, pages 42-46 in the revision book. Offset Lithography needs to be the main focus with keywords noted from the other types.
The exam question this week will be number 7. I suggest pupils do both types of pictorial drawing - perspective and isometric. They will probably need a quick reminder of each. Peer marking again.
